Secretary Mink Breeders' Association Shows Slides Of Fur Exhibits

The annual banquet of the Fur Farmers of Lac la Biche area was held May 22 in the basement of the Greek Orthodox church, with the ladies of the church catering to the 68 mink ranchers and guests present.

Bob Gillies, fur farm supervisor, was chairman for the evening. Special guests included Johnnie Caines, owner of one of the largest fur farms in the Edmonton area; Dr. Ballantyne, provincial veterinarian of labratory research and Norman Shields of Fort William, Ont., executive secretary of the Canada Mink Breeders, who was the main speaker of the evening.

Mr. Shields, who travels for months at a time in the interests of the organization, showed splendid colored slides of the exhibit of mink furs, which he had shown in his travels to most of the countries of Europe and the British Isles. His lengthy address pertaining to the marketing of mink pelts and other phases of this highly competitive, but wonderfully fascinating business was well received by the audience.

Out of the many fine addresses and the related expriences of practical mink farmers, it is becoming more and more apparent that even with the best available advice on all of the many phases of mink ranching, the matter of quality seems to be the keynote of success. At the recent fur auction at the Hudson's Bay in New York, attended by buyers, manufacturers, retailers, brokers and ranchers from all over the world, it was proven that it is quality that sells pelts.

Mr. Gillies stated that some 30,000 mink were raised in this area in 1956 and it is expected that the figure will be higher this year. Lac La Biche is considered one of the largest fur farming districts in Alberta.

Archie McPhail Already Working For Constituency

In speaking to a large crowd at Lac la Biche on Friday last the Honourable Gordon E. Taylor Minister of Highways stated that the Social Credit Candidate Archie McPhail had not waited to be elected before working on behalf of his people and that already he had made representations for better roads. "I am happy to announce tonight that the following projects are on our agenda this season:

"$40,000.00 has been allotted for the commencement of the road from to Caslan;

"Work will be continued on the District Highway south of Lac la Biche;

"More than $40,000.00 in Special Grants will be spent to improve the roads east and south of Plamondon, west of Rich Lake, south of Helena and south of No. 46 to Berny and east"

"In addition a great many other roads will be improved this year" the Minister said.

"With enough right of way to go around the earth at the equator six times and with half of that right of way open it is not possible to improve every road immediately but we are endeavouring to provide good road facilities for all of our people at the earlist possible time," Mr. Taylor concluded.

The Minister in addition to paying a tribute to Mr. Archie McPhail also stated that the representations made from time to time by the Lac la Biche Social Credit Organization were of tremendous assistance to him.

Service Curtailed When Water Main Breaks

LAC LA BICHE—Some 20 residents on Athabasca Avenue were without water service for a week lately when a break occurred in a four inch water main. It took a work crew several days to find the exact spot of the break, as four feet of frost was encountered in some places, and the mains are laid nine feet below the surface of the street.

However, by Saturday of last week, things were operating as usual.

PREMIER E. C. MANNING

W. I. Notes

LAC LA BICHE—Eighteen ladies were present at the meeting of the W.I. held in the home of Mrs. Linnell, May 21. Various matters were dealt with, including the library report. A letter from the Canadian Mental Health Association was read and discussed and it was decided to send this worthy organization a donation of $10.00, and plans were discussed to procure a film on the subject at a later date. Topics to be chosen for the next lecture by the Home Economist were discussed and the secretary was asked to write for material literature from the Canadian National Institute for the Blind was perused. A lively quizz led by Mrs. Mastaler was enjoyed by all present, following which Mr. Mike Maccagno, our local M.L.A. gave a short but interesting talk on citizenship.

Mr. Maccagno divided his talk under four headings, namely: 1. Love of country. 2. Appreciation of History. 3. Pride of Country. 4. Love of good government. In touching on the requirements of Citizenship in our country, the speaker mentioned the need of knowing something of the history, geography and language of Canada, as well as the five years residence before becoming a naturalized Canadian. But, said Mr. Maccagno, Citizenship to him was exemplified in two recent events in our Town. Paying tribute to a local boy who had lost his life through an accident while serving with the R.C.A.F., the speaker said the respect paid to the deceased and the genuine acts of kindness of the residents in the Town shown to the parents proved our lives are more closely knit together in a small town than in a city. In mentioning Citizenship in relation to our national pride, he touched on the interest and pride shown by the youth of today in our outstanding Canadian athletes such as the National Hockey League.

Mr. Maccagno mentioned that the recent graduation exercises were in his opinion a real example of Citizenship also, and voiced his praise for the thoughts expressed by the graduates.

The ladies present gave a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. Maccagno for his timely address. At the close of the evening the hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. J. Chester, served a tasty lunch.

Sunspots Cause Freak Reception

James Y. Nicol, a Star Weekly staff writer, describes amazing instances of freak radio and TV reception in an interesting article appearing in the current issue of The Star Weekly.

Recently, a TV program originating in England was picked up, quite by chance, by viewers in the United States. Canadian Arctic shortwave sets at trading posts received ship-to-shore conversations of North Sea fishermen and an Edmonton taxi dispatcher's voice boomed over an Eskimo trapper's battery set at Cambridge Bay, 1,000 miles away.

In July, 1957, the International Geophysical Year is being launched. Canadian scientists are contributing prominently to this cooperative exploration of the mysteries of earth and atmosphere. Almost certainly more will learn about solar activity and its effect upon the earth and the current Star Weekly article tells in language the layman can understand, just how the science of radio and TV waves can be effected by the sun's activity.

Correction

In a recent shower held for Joan Kibbe of Lac la Biche, it was stated that the shower was sponsored by the ladies of the United Church. This should have read "friends of the bride-elect."

Sampietro-Yarmey Vows Pledged In Afternoon Wedding At St. Catherine's

LAC LA BICHE—St. Catherine's Catholic Church was the scene of a pretty afternoon wedding recently when Miss Salliann Yarmey, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Y. Yarmey, and Ronald Sampietro, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete Sampietro, all of Lac La Biche, were united in marriage. Rev. Father McGraine officiated.

Entering the church on the arm of her father, the bride was radiant in a floor-length gown of white satin with lace and nylon overskirt and lace bolero. Her finger tip veil was held in place by a tiara of sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink and white roses and carnations.

Laura Baglot, as maid of honor, chose a semi formal length gown of blue lace over satin. The two bridesmaids, Maureen Rosa and Davene Bowness, cousin of the groom, were dressed in pink and blue satin respectively, with nylon net overskirts. The attendants all wore matching bandeaus and carried colonial bouquets.

Anthony Sampietro was his brother's groomsman and ushering guests were Eli Yarmey, brother of the bride and Roy Tkachuk. Miss Denise Richard presided at the organ.

Immediately following the wedding ceremony a reception was held in the Memorial Hall for some 60 friends. To receive her guests, the bride's mother chose a grey tailored suit with white accessories; her corsage was of pink roses. Mrs. Sampietro, mother of the groom, chose a grey and pink afternoon dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses also.

The bride's table was laid in white and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake.

EDMONTON—The annual state convention of the Knights of Columbus of the province of Alberta for 1957 was held in Lethbridge May 25-26.

It was reported Knights of Columbus councils in the province gave many thousands of dollars to charities including orpnanages, homes for the aged, refugee relief and other deserving cases. Boys work is a universal interest or every council, and muck work and financial support was made in this field.

The social events included a banquet held at the Marquis hotel, when the main speaker was the Rev. Father Gillis. The subject of his address centered on "Christian Civilization."

The main resolution passed at conclusion of the convention was a greater effort in promoting Christian civilization. The delegates were exhorted to increase their efforts in achieving this cause.

The new state deputy elect is W. J. Connelly of Edmonton. State officers for the ensuing year, who were elected at conclusion of the convention will be his executives.

J. M. DeCHENE, VETERAN MEMBER FOR OTTAWA, TO OPEN NEW BUILDING

By T. W. PUE

At 3:00 p.m. on Friday, June 7th, a veteran member of the Canadian House of Commons will fulfill one of his fondest wishes. That is—to provide the people of Lac la Biche and district with a new modern post office.

Mr. Dechene, whose home town is Bonnyville, has represented the Athabasca Constituency (of which Lac la Biche is a part) since 1940. In Ottawa he is known as one of the hardest working members of any party, in spite of his age (he is 78) and a recent lengthy illness.

Anyone who writes to Mr. Dechene about any problem is certain to get a prompt, courteous reply. He will know, too, that it is not just another letter. Mr. Dechene, you can be sure, has personally investigated every angle of the circumstances that occasioned the complaint or enquiry.

Mr. Dechene has been successful in getting other new post offices for his constituency at Bonnyville, St. Paul and Athabasca. It is conceded that the newest—the Lac la Biche Federal building—is one of the best.

J. M. DECHENE

All residents of Lac la Biche and district are invited to attend the official opening ceremonies on Friday, June 7th, at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Charity is good for the giver, but sometimes, it is not so beneficial to the recipient.

Postmaster To Serve From New Premises

Paul Bouvier, postmaster at Lac la Biche, will be serving about 1,200 residents from the new premises in the pretentious federal building.

Mr. Bouvier, first appointed January, 1953, replaced Clovis Henri Hanel, who had been postmaster from 1927 to 1953. Mr. Bouvier's appointment became permanent 1954.

Commodious Buildin Provides For Federal Services

The best and most steadily p ronized business in Lac la Biche the Post Office. Nearly every d a representative from each hou hold calls at the Post Office pick up the mail.

In recent years, the post off has been housed in small buildin and Lac la Biche residents ha had to shift from one building another as the postmaster mov They have also cast envious e at nearby Athabasca which year or two ago, had a bright n building erected by the Fede Government.

All that is now past histo with the erection and offic opening of the new Federal Bui ing. It will provide adequate p office facilities as well as offi for the Department of Transp and Department of Public Wor

The post office which belon o group 32, will have 366 box which will greatly add to the po master's and staff's facilities the rapid handling of mail.

POST OFFICE OPENS JUNE 7th

Michael Maccagno, Liberal Member For Provincial House, To Assist

When the new Lac la Biche Federal Building and Post Office is opened on Friday, June 7th, two well-known public men will be on hand to take part in opening ceremonies.

J. M. Dechene, for many years Member of Parliament for the Athabasca Constituency, who is seeking re-election in the June 10th voting will officially open the new building.

It was largely through the efforts of Mr. Dechene that the new Post Office was built at this time for Lac la Biche.

Another public figure, a resident of Lac la Biche who will take part in the arrangements, is Michael Maccagno, M.L.A. He was elected to the Provincial House in the June 1955 election.

M. MACCAGNO, M.L.A.

New Building Of "Help To Citizens"

The long awaited opening of the new Federal Building at Lac la Biche has been set for June 7, and a cordial invitation has been extended to all members of the public. The building will house post office, public works and transport departments. The ceremonies will start at 3 in the afternoon and in addition to sitting member of parliament Joseph M. Dechene and M.L.A. Michael Maccaggno, it is expected a prominent member of the federal government will be on hand to take part in the opening. Residents of this area are pleased that the federal authority has seen fit to provide the district with a government centre. The provision of such central facilities is of help to citizens and business organizations wishing to contact government officials on matters of varied concern.

Big business, and most little business, is interested in profits—not reform or social improvement

New Building Cost $144,700

Haddow Construction Co. of Edmonton, had the building contract for the new Lac la Biche Federal Building, it involved a cost of $144,700. Plans and specifications were prepared by Diamond, Dupuis and Dunn, Edmonton architects.

The building will provide improved facilities for the post office, public works and transport departments. Basement and ground floor will be used for government offices and the second floor will provide living quarters for the caretaker.

There are some people who fail, but do not envy others their success, having built their lives on their own terms.

Lac la Biche Has Grown With Many New Buildings in Past Ten Years

Since the end of World War II the population of Lac la Biche has doubled—from roughly 600 to 1,200 population. With this increase, has come several fine new buildings to serve the increased needs of the people.

The Yorkshire Hotel rightly boasts of being one of the finest in any town in Alberta. It is only 3 years old. Two years ago the Province of Alberta constructed a new Provincial Building which houses the Government Liquor Store, Treasury Branch, Court Room and other provincial offices such as the Department of Municipal Affairs.

Not least of the recent new buildings is the fine addition to St. Catherine's hospital.

All these, and many more have helped to make Lac la Biche a good place to live.

Congratulations Lac la Biche

Athabasca Health Unit Notes

As this is Spring Clean-Up time and as the town council is at present preparing a by-law in connection with garbage disposal it might be as well if we gave some consideration to how we might best dispose of our household waste. Adequate care in this matter should prove of benefit to all.

Garbage is of importance as a factor in the transmission of disease, chiefly because it provides food for house flies and serves to attract them in large numbers to the vicinity of kitchens where they will have opportunities to infect food.

The organic constituents of garbage decompose in a short time and produce unpleasant odors which create a nuisance if the garbage is not disposed of in a satisfactory manner.

If cans are too large, they put an undue physical strain on the garbage collector. The capacity of the cans must therefore not be larger than 30 gallons.

Access to the garbage must be denied to flies and domestic animals, therefore the cans must have tight fitting lids and must be provided with a stand. This stand also facilitates collection and may be easily and cheaply constructed of an open framework of 2 x 4 lumber so as to raise the bottom of the cans to a height of 20 inches from the ground level and railed at a height of 32 inches from the ground.

Cans with jagged or sharp edges are a menace to the collector and should be replaced.

All garbage should be wrapped in paper. If it is not so wrapped, obnoxious odors will soon be evident and a nuisance will be created for all concerned. Furthermore, damp unwrapped garbage will, in the winter, freeze to the can and make removal difficult or impossible. In attempting to remove garbage frozen to the can, the collector has no alternative but to pick up the can and bang it on the edge of the truck Treatment of this sort will quickly render a can unserviceable and the householder will soon be faced with the expense of purchasing a new one.

A separate can should be provided for ashes. Hot ashes cannot be removed as they would create a danger of fire in the truck.

A pretty young thing passing by is still a sight to see, even in 1957 with its Middle East crises, et al.

Ellen Clark Says Vows

The United Church, Lac La Biche, was the scene of a quiet wedding May 24, when Miss Marjorie Ellen Clark, youngest daughter of Mr. Howard Clark and the late Mrs. Clark of Carmen, Man., exchanged marriage vows with Mr. Robert James Wolstenholme, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wolstenholme of Lac La Biche. Rev. Stuart Munro performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her brother, Mr. Fred Clark of Calgary, the bride looked charming in an ankle length gown of white lace over satin featured with a lace bolero with lily point sleeves. Her chapel veil was held in place by a tiara of tulle and trimmed with sequins. Her only jewelry were pearl earrings, a gift of the groom. She carried a colonial bouquet of red roses and white jonquils.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Peter McLea, sister of the groom, dressed in yellow lace over satin with a yellow tulle headdress. Her bouquet was of carnations and yellow mums.

Peter McLea acted as best man. Mrs. M. A. Lett presided at the organ.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the York Hotel for 30 relatives and close friends. Receiving the guests were Mrs. Fred Clark, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Wolstenholme, mother of the groom. Mrs. Clark chose a steel blue silk afternoon dress with white accessories and corsage of red carnations. Mrs. Wolstenholme was dressed in a navy blue suit with white accessories. Her corsage was a pink rose and lily of the valley.

The bride's table was laid in white, centered with a three-tiered wedding cake and flanked by tall tapers. Mr. McLea proposed the toast to the bride, the groom responding. Later the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Calgary.

Out of town guests included Mrs. Ted Carell, Calgary, Aunt of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark, Calgary; Mr. Jack Wolstenholme, Cold Lake; Mr. Peter McLea, Beaverlodge, Sask.

Those whose values are based on money alone have lost their sense of values.

So True

"In times of trial," boomed the visiting pastor, "what brings us the greatest comfort?"

From the rear of the church came the answer: "An acquittal."

DISTRICT AGRICULTURAL NOTES

By J. S. LORE

Swine erysipelas appears to be getting quite prevalent in hogs again this year. This disease takes on several different forms. First, there is the acute type. This is characterized by sudden onset with high temperatures of 104 degrees to 108 degrees F. The animals lose their appetites and die very suddenly. Other symptoms often seen are labored breathing, vomiting, diarrhoea, increased thirst, and purplish discoloration of the skin on the underside of the belly and the back of the ears.. Then there is the chronic type of erysipelas. The symptoms are stiffness, painful reluctant movements, swollen joints and unthrifty condition. The pigs do not usually die but are left stunted and eat and never repay the for the feed they consume. Then, there is the skin form of erysipelas. With this type square-shaped lesions often show on skin anywhere on the body or limbs. These patches are first red in color then turn dark purple before peeling off.

If you have an outbreak of erysipelas, all the exposed pigs should be treated with anti-swine erysipelas serum and all the sick pigs treated with penicillin. Crippled pigs do not always respond to treatment due to permanent damage in the joints. If you have an outbreak of erysipelas on your farm, vaccination of all your pigs at six weeks of age with swine erysipelas bacterin will give you immunity for six months. After an outbreak houses and feeding areas should be cleaned with lye water and disinfected with a good disinfectant. Lots and pastures should be changed and not used for at least one year.

Victoria Ziobro, Elvin Meyer Exchange Rings In Mid-Morning Ceremony

On May 8, Miss Victoria Ziobro, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ziobro of Westlock was united in marriage to Mr. Elvin Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meyer of Freedom.

The mid-morning ceremony took place in St. Mary's Church in Westlock with the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Rooney officiating at the nuptial high mass, where rings were exchanged by the bride and groom. Yellow and white tulips and large baskets of carnations decorated the church.

Nosegays of sweetheart roses and white ribbons marked the guest pews.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, wore a floor-length gown of rose-point lace over nylon satin molded in long torso lines and flaring to a full bouffant skirt. The bodice was cut with a straight neckline, outlined with applique petals of lace with simulated pearls. The long sleeves were lily-point. A coronet of seed pearls held her chapel veil of French illusion, and she carried a white prayer book garlanded with an orchid and white satin streamers.

The bride's only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and pearl earrings, a gift of the groom.

The bridal party entered the church led by Miss Kathleen Ziobro of Edmonton as third bridesmaid, in a floor-length pastel green lace over net gown, with matching coronet and mittens. She carried a colonial bouquet of feathered pink and white carnations and sweetheart roses with pastel streamers.

The second and first bridesmaids were Miss Marlene Meyer and Miss Violet Busteed, both of Edmonton, wearing pale pink gowns with matching coronets and mittens. They carried colonial bouquets of feathered carnations, sweetheart roses and pastel streamers. The maid of honor, Miss May Ziobro, of Regina, wore teal-blue nylon net floor-length with matching bolero. This was complemented with a peach feather head-piece and long gloves. The maid of honor's bouquet was a colonial bouquet of white and pink feathered carnations, yellow rosebuds and lily-of-the-valley and white streamers.

The maid of honor was followed by two flower girls, Miss Kathy Thompson and Miss Margaret McInnis, both of Westlock, frocked in floor-legnth white crystalitte with picture hats. They carried baskets of spring flowers. The bride was preceded by the ring-bearer, little Dougy Miller.

The groom was attended by Mr. Alec Opalinski of Edmonton as best man, and Mr. John Ziobro of Stony Plain, Edward Ziobro and Joe Richter as groomsmen. Ushering guests was Mr. Norton Gawn.

Sister Rose Francis played the organ and Misses Betty and Anne, sisters of the bride, sang the "Ave Maria" at the offertory during mass, and on "This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" during the signing of the register.

The mother of the bride, Mrs. Ziobro, chose an afternoon dress of navy linen with a white large brim hat of souffle straw with white and navy accessories. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Myer's afternoon dress was of navy silk crepe with navy and white accessories accented with a large brim white straw hat. Her corsage was also American Beauty roses.

A reception for some 180 guests was held in the Memorial Hall, ladies of the CWL catering. The bride's table was centred with a four-tiered wedding cake flanked by white tapers and baskets of pink and blue carnations.

Mr. Norman Miller was master of ceremonies and Rt. Rev. Msgr. Rooney proposed the toast to the bride. Words of congratulations and best wishes were given by Mr. Spackman, Mr. Hogarth, Mr. Doonelly and the bride's father. Miss Gladys Dentman of Edmonton sang "I'll Walk Beside You" during the reception, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Hugo Meyer.

For her honeymoon the bride changed into a light weight wool, charcoal grey suit. She wore a white model straw hat with white and black patent accessories. Her corsage was a cymbidium orchid.

After a trip to Great Falls, Mont., Mr. and Mrs. Meyer will make their home in Westlock.

Little In Pot For Graham

NEW YORK — If it depended on the collection plate, Billy Graham's crusade would run deeply in the red.

Nightly offering wouldn't half foot the bill. Although some well-to-do donars are filling the gap, backers have a financial problem.

Altogether, counting television plans, the six-week crusade is expected to cost about $1,200,000. Graham and his team get nothing but their housing.

At the Madison Square Garden meetings, where no special appeals are made, the swift-paced collections have been bringing in about $7,000 a night. Taking average attendance, this means the New York audiences have chipped in less than 50 cents apiece.

But this is about what planners expected; they count on such collections to bring in about $300,000 in the six weeks.

That's $600,000 shy of the estimated costs of the crusade itself.

Kikino

T. M. Johnson, here for a couple of days business, took Mrs. Bertha Erasmus to the Sanatorium in Edmonton, when he returned there.

Mrs. Elmer Erasmus is a patient in the Lac La Biche hospital.

THE Homemaker

And so the wedding bells begin to ring. The first we hear of weddings is often a public announcement of an engagement in the local paper four to six weeks before the wedding. And of course this is made by the parents of the bride. Formal wedding invitations are sent out at least 3 to 4 weeks prior to the wedding date. And these formal invitations require a reply. It never ceases to amaze me how people can so casually shrug off the responsibility of answering an invitation. Honestly it's just plain common courtesy to the parents of the bride, who so generously invite you to the festivities to let them know if you can or cannot accept. The poor hostess—how can she plan a reception? All that needs to happen to those who don't answer invitations, is to try to plan a reception themselves and get 1/5 of the invitations answered.

They'd soon loose their irresponsibility.

The bride's parents are the hosts on this wonderful day. They have the responsibility for all wedding arrangements, including: invitations, reception, music, decoration and flowers at church and reception, gifts for attendants. The groom is responsible for the bride's ring, priest or minister's fee, photographs, bouquets for bride and attendants, corsages for mothers, boutonniers for father of bride, best man and ushers. He makes travelling arrangements and buys gifts for bride and ushers.

All wedding gifts should be sent to the home of the bride and should be acknowledged at once with a personal note.

Remember that this is a very important day for the bride and groom. It's their day. And be you, guest, mother, bridesmaid or caterer, your suggestions, ideas and wishes should always complement theirs. Your contribution to the occasion, whatever it be, should be done to make that day one of the most memorable in their lives.

Must'a Been

"Mary," said mother reprovingly, "everytime you are naughty I get another gray hair."

"Gee, Mom. You must have been a terror when you were young—just look at Grandma."
